From the Antwerp Courant, dated Nov. 9.

Reggio, Oct. 3.

THERE being at present in the Harbour of Messina 8 Galleys of Palermo, and two large French Men of War; we are watchfully on our Guard, to prevent all Surprize. Some Feluccas are dispatch'd to Naples, to give the Viceroy an Account of this Naval Force of the Enemy; and to give necessary Warning, that no Tartans may venture this Way without being well provided for Defence. All the Spanish Soldiers which are in Garrison here, are by Order of the Viceroy to be sent to Naples, because 'tis not thought safe to truft to their Fidelity; and we expect here in their Room the Regiment of Foot which the Prince d' Avellino has lately rais'd for King Charles in this Kingdom.

From the Amst. and Leid. Gaz. dated Nov. 9.

Naples, Oct. 16. A Commissary having some Days ago stop'd and imprison'd at Fondi a Courier who was going to Rome with some Soldiers, without Pasports from the Viceroy; Collonel Enghel Governour of Gaeta, who had sollicited Pasports for them but without Effect, sent 150 Grenadiers to break open the Prisons of Fondi and set the Prisoners at Liberty; which they executed, notwithstanding some of the Country Militia made Opposition and exchang'd some Shot with them, so that some Men were kill'd on both Sides. Advice of it being brought hither, the Prince of Darmstad went from hence on Thursday last, to take Informations on the Spot of what has pass'd, and to prevent any further Disorder. The chief Courier of the Pope's Nuncio, has been murther'd by another Courier who had been dismiss'd his Service; and the Murtherer having taken Sanctuary in the Church of St. Maria Nuova, is strictly guarded there. Three of our Barks of Reggio, took lately some Barks of Lipari and 3 of Sicily, which had been driven by Stress of Weather towards the Coast of Calabria: But 6 Arm'd Barks of Messina appearing soon after, our Barks were oblig'd to abandon their Prizes, after having taken out their Crews whom they have carry'd Prisoners to Reggio. A Train of Artillery and Stores of all kinds of Ammunition are getting ready here, to be sent to the Frontiers of the Ecclesiastical State. The Bishop of Agento is put under Confinement, for Excommunicating the Receivers of the sequester'd Revenues of absent Ecclesiasticks; and the Bishop of Salerno with several others are sent for hither, to answer for the like Offence. Five Soldiers of the Garrison of Fronto, are siez'd for conspiring to deliver up that Place to the Pope's Forces: 15 of their Accomplices have made their Escape into the Ecclesiastical Territories.

Hague, November 9. 'We talk here of an Augmentation, to be setled this Winter, of 20 or 30000 'Men on the Part of the Allies, for the next Campaign; and that Her Britannick Majesty has set an 'Example to the rest by consenting already, for her 'own Share, to the taking into Service a certain 'Number of the Troops of King Augustus. In the 'mean Time 'tis rumour'd among the most intelligent 'Persons, that France is more dispos'd than ever to offer 'Propositions of Peace: And 'tis believ'd nothing 'with-holds them from endeavouring to set on Foot 'a Negociation, so much as the mortifying Reflection that Great Britain and Holland have already re-'fus'd to enter into any Treaty without the Know-'ledge and Consent of all their Allies; and that 'tis in 'vain for them to offer, to Potentates whom they have 'so often deceived by Treaties, any other Security for 'the Peace and Liberties of Europe, than the only 'solid one of giving up Spain, the West Indies, and 'the other Parts of the Spanish Monarchy, to the 'House of Austria. But, if their Hopes of a new 'War in Italy, succeed no better than those are like 'to do which they have all along entertain'd of the 'King of Sweden's interposing his Mediation of a 'general Peace; perhaps this Winter may not pass 'over, before they prevail with themselves to make 'some Overtures to the purpose. There has of late 'been some Steps taken towards accomodating the 'Differences between the Court of Prussia and the 'City of Cologne: It has been demanded on the 'Part of the said Court, that the City should send a 'Deputation to Berlin to desire to be excus'd for any 'Prejudice or Insult which the Prussian Minister residing there may have receiv'd in some popular Tumults; and to offer to grant that Minister the free 'Exercise of his Religion in his own House, conformably to the Rights of Nations practic'd over 'all Europe. But it has been replied on the Part of 'the City, that the Prussian Minister residing among 'their Inhabitants, is not to be look'd upon as a 'Person sent to transact Affairs with their Magistrates, 'because his Credentials are address'd to the States 'of the Circles of the Lower Rhine and Westphalia; that therefore he is not to be consider'd as residing in Cologne in any other Condition or Character than that of a private Gentleman; and that 'besides, 'tis not in the Power of their Magistrates 'alone to grant such a free Exercise of Religion as is 'demanded. This Affair is at a stand at present.

London, November 5.

On Wednesday Night late arriv'd a Mail from Ostend, which brought Letters from thence of the 11th of November N. S. importing, That the Earl of Stairs was detach'd the 7th from the Camp at Rousselaer, with 6 Squadrons; and being joyn'd by 4 Squadrons and 10 Battallions from the Detachments encamp'd at Kortemarq and Longemarq, took Post in Dixmuyde. From thence he issued Orders to all the Villages and open Towns in the Districts of Dixmuyde and Furnes, injoyning the Inhabitants to carry in forthwith to the Army of the Allies their Corn and other Provisions (which the Enemy had summon'd them to bring into Ipres and other Wall'd Places;) promising they should be paid for the same if they obey'd, and threatning them otherwise with Fire and Sword. Upon this, the Inhabitants, not only of those Districts, but even of those of St. Omer, Berg St Vinoc, and Bourbourg, have very plentifully supply'd the said Army with Cattle, Corn, and all other Provisions. After this, our Troops did in a Manner invest Furnes; whether in order to besiege it, or block it up only, is yet uncertain: But the Inhabitants of Furnes apprehend a Siege, and have therefore sent away their best Effects to Newport. The 28th and 29th of October, the Duke of Vendome caus'd some Bombs to be thrown into Dam: After which, he appear'd with a Body of Troops before Ostend, and at the same time some Squadrons of Horse came along the Sands from Newport, on a Design concerted with that Duke to surprize and cut off General Erle's Camp: But the General retir'd in Time safe into the Outworks of Ostend. This

Project

Project failing, the French knowing there were ſeveral Tranſport Ships in the Harbour of Oſtend, and that ſome of them were laden with Powder, rais'd a Battery of Artillery, in order to fire burning Bullets among them; but ſuch Meaſures were taken, as 'twas not doubted would render that Deſign alſo ineffectual. Theſe Letters add, that the French were hard at Work in fortifying Bruges, Ghent, and Leſſinghen; and that they were preparing to build Huts along the Schelde.

Whereas John Marſhal, Bookſeller, in Grace-Church-ſtreet, has printed an Edition of Mr. Stennet's Sacramental Hymns, without the leave or knowledge of him, or the Proprietors; This is to give notice, that it is not only on a worſe Paper and Letter than the laſt put out by the Author, but has many groſs Faults and Blunders in it; and therefore 'tis hop'd that none who have regard to Property or common Honeſty, will encourage ſuch a Practice, eſpecially in one who has been too often guilty of it. And the Laſt Edition of the ſaid Hymns being ſold off, a 3d will ſhortly be publiſh'd with ſome Additions, recommended by ſeveral eminent Miniſters in and about London. There will likewiſe be printed a 2d Edition of Mr. Stennet's Verſion of Solomon's Song, to be bound up with the Hymns for thoſe who deſire it. They will both be printed on a good Paper and Character, by John Darby for John Baker at Mercer's Chappel in Cheapſide.

Whereas there was lately publiſh'd, a Pamphlet, Entituled, Some Proceedings in the Convocation, A. D. 1705. faithfully repreſented, &c. in which Pamphlet are many falſe and unjuſt Repreſentations and Reflections.
